ANNOUNCEMENTS

AT THE DAVIS TODAY. Triangle Plays and Three Keith Vaudeville Acts.

The Triangle feature play being shown at the Davis today is Old Heidelberg, a five part Griffith production featuring Dorothy Gist.

For the completion of his education Prince Karl was sent to college at Heidelberg. There he got his first real taste of fellowship, small as it was. His hrother collegians tried their best to treat him as their equal. They drank beer with him. They played with him, and Prince Karl for the first time in his wife was really enjoying himself. While at college he met Kathie, the daughter of an old soldier who had been wounded for the honor of his country—a girl he had once met in childhood, but had never been permitted to see. Kathie was the only girl Prince Karl had ever met. Soon he began to love her with all the ardor of youth. Life was sweet at last.

But at home the country was in trourble. His people needed him to protect their interests. For diplomatic reasons the king had arranged a match between Karl and a princess of a protect their interests. For diplomatic reasons the king had arranged a match between Karl and a princess of a neighboring state. It was up to the prince to answer the call of his country and do his duty, or give up his lady love. Wouldn't you like to see this picture and get his decision?

The Triangle Keystone is A Favorite Fool, a two reel comedy with Eddle

A tornado wrecks a circus tent, which falls on Eddie Foy, the seven little Foys and Polly Moran. They poke their heads through the rainsoaked canvas and the curtain falls on one of Mack Sennett's most laughable farces, A Favorite Fool. Foy is a "son of rest" on a farm when The Widow Wallop's circus strikes town. He knows naught of the seven little Wallops when he proposes marriage to the lops when he proposes marriage to the widow and is accepted. Romance is assailed by the knowledge of the famassailed by the knowledge of the family he has acquired and he runs away. Later he learns that a brow-beating ringmaster who has ousted the widow from the show is a villain and that the show really belongs to her. Then he returns with the papers proving ownership, casts the ringmaster into a lion's cage and takes possession. The tornado releases the villain and he cuts the robes that hold up the tent. A Fatornado releases the villain and he cuts the ropes that hold up the tent. A Favorite Fool has many thrills in its two reels of comedy. In one of the situations Foy, beset by his new wife and her brood, leaps from a roof. He also runs an electric car into an auto stalled on a crossing. The veteran comedian seems sure to be a great success in motion pictures.

In the vaudeville programme three excellent acts are seen, headed by the Franconia Opera Co., a big scenic singing offering, Russell and Mae, two elever comedy girls, and Billy Newton, a real funny fellow that makes lots of fun. Matinee at 2.15; all seats 10 cents; children 5 cents.

AT THE AUDITORIUM. Victor Moore in Chimmie Faden and Big Vaudeville Show Today.

Today will be the last chance to see the excellent vaudeville show headed by The Heiress company of seven pretty girls and two clever male comedians who keep things going in great shape during the 25 minutes they are on the stage. They have several changes of stunning costumes which the girls wear well, and the piece is brimful of catchy musical numbers. There are two other acts on the bill, andrew Visocchi, an expert accordianist, and Harry Taylor, who does a monologue and is quite some yodler. On the picture programme today and tomorrow an entirely new set of photoplays will be seen which will include the Universal Imp comedy By Return Male and the Paramount five reel feature, Victor Moore in Chimmine Fadden, taken from the play of the same name, and a corking comedy photoplay. Mr. Moore will be remembered here because of the excellent impression he made when he appeared in Snobs, which was shown at this house on the Paramount programme some weeks ago. Today will be the last chance to see

QUICKLY VANISHES

Umost Instant Relief from Indigestion Belching, Sourness, Heartburn and Billiousness.

Your money back if you want it is the way in which all leading drug stores are selling Mi-o-na, the great stomach prescription.

This is an unusual plan, but Mi-o-na has so much merit and is so almost invariably successful in quickly relieving all forms of indigestion that druggists run little risk in-selling under a guarantee of this kind.

Do not be miserable or make your friends miserable with your dyspepsia, and on the miserable or make your friends miserable with your dyspepsia, Mi-o-na will help you. Get a box today and learn for yourself how easy it is to put your out-of-order stomach in perfect condition—no more heartburn, belching of gas, sourness, billiousness, dizziness or that feeling of heaviness after eating.

A change for the better should be seen after the first few doses of Mi-o-na, and its continued use should soon start you on the road to perfect digestion and enjoyment of food.

You can get Mi-o-na from practically every druggist in this vicinity, including Lee & Osgood, under a positive guarantee of satisfactory results or money back. What fairer proposition could be made?

POETRY

STRANGERS YET: After years of life together,
After fair and stormy weather,
After travel in far lands,
After touch of wedded hands,
Why thus joined, why ever met
If they must be strangers yet

Strangers yet!

After childbood's winning ways,
After care and blame and praise,
Counsel asked and wisdom given,
After mutual prayers to Heaven,
Child and parent scarce regret
When they part—are strangers yet.

Strangers yet!
Will it evermore be thus—
Spirits still impervious?
Shall we ever fairly stand,
Soul to soul as hand to hand?
Are the bounds eternal yet.
To retain us strangers yet?

Strangers yet!
Tell not love it must aspire
Unto something other—higher.
God himself were loved the best
Were man's sympathies at rest:
Rest above the strain and fret
Of the world of strangers yet! O LITTLE NIGHT WIND.

O little night wind, take me where th Between the dark and dawn, when Me swings lowest
And all the world's asleep!
I He awake and listen to thy sighing—
Give me thy hand, and let me, too, go flying,
Over the tree-tops sweep.

Over the harbor, with faint lights
a-dipping.
Out toward the sky's edge, over the shipping.
Stiffing walls far behind.
Foam-crested waves that would leap up to snatch us.
They must be fleet indeed to catch us.
Skimming low with arms entwined. O little night wind, saddest of singers.
Tapping my window with small timid fingers,
Mourning the long night through;
So oft I lie and see the gray fight breaking,
And hear the world once more around me waking—
Wishing I had gone away with you!
—Ethel H. Wolff.
